

Course name: Advanced Topics in Health Economic Methods
Semester: HT 2020
Number of registered students: 20

1. Which aspects of the course went well?

A course evaluation was conducted in Cambro from which most of the reflections are done. It allowed for both grading and comments of different aspects. Only 11 students responded to this evaluation.

A major complication with the course was that it due to the pandemic was forced to hold through Zoom.

In general, most aspects of the course went well despite the online format.

2. Which aspects of the course need improvement?

We had no previous experience of computer sessions online. Considering this they went ok but based on the experience from this year we will do changes if the pandemic remains or for other reasons we will be forced to have them online. A good suggestion in the course evaluation was to record how to do things and this will be an option worth considering even if the course can be held at campus again during the end of 2021 when it is given next time.

3. Suggested changes for the coming semester (if any)

No changes are to be expected based on this course evaluation if the course can be held at campus again. If online there will be improvements for the computer sessions and this will have to be thought through during the months before course start. If the course can be held at Campus it is not likely to have much of the content held online.
