

Thesis project for IKEA Food

At IKEA Food Services AB we are passionate food lovers that from our Malmö office develop and provide food for the many people around the world. Every year 680 million visitors experience a taste of Sweden in the IKEA Restaurants, Swedish Food Markets and Bistros in our different markets. With Food at the heart of everyday life, we offer honest food for the many people and the planet.

We are looking for you with an interest for food and that wants to support us with a project combined with writing your thesis or degree project.

Purpose:

Help increase internal knowledge of nutrition and health (N&H) in relation to the N&H business ambitions of IKEA Food. Planning and delivering nutrition training for the IKEA Food teams. Give recommendation on set up for rolling our nutrition training to the IKEA Food markets.

Specific tasks and responsibilities:

1. Determine current internal knowledge of the topic in relation to N&H business ambitions and identify training needs.
2. Create, plan and deliver training.
3. Evaluate and measure impact.

Knowledge:

1. Strong nutritional knowledge.
2. Good presentation skills.

More Information

Sounds interesting? Please send us your application – CV and letter of motivation – in English, to Maria Wirén, maria.wiren@inter.ikea.com, and make sure you tell us why you would be a good fit. Please note that we will be interviewing continuously, which means that we may close the application process earlier than stated if we find the right candidates.