

March 10-14, 2019
Hemavan, Sweden

The Winter Conference in Statistics is organized by the Department of Mathematics and Mathematical Statistics jointly with the Department of Statistics, USBE, at Umeå University. It has been arranged by Umeå University since 1968 and acts as an important platform and meeting place for discussing important statistical topics in a relaxing environment.

Approximately 18 hours will be scheduled of which 12 lectures will be given by the main speakers.

Theme:

Lectures will be given in the morning, in late afternoon and in the evening, with opportunity for outdoor activities during midday.

Machine Learning

Speakers:

- Corinna Cortes, Head of Research, Google, USA
- Edward Kennedy, Professor, Carnegie Mellon University, USA
- Mattias Villani, Professor, Linköping University, Sweden

The conference also includes contributed presentations and a poster session.

Venue

Hemavan's hotel: Högfjällshotell, Ekenstams Väg 18, 920 66 Hemavan, Sweden.
Tel: +46 (0) 954 301 55.

Registration

Registration and more information available at the conference homepage:
<https://www.umu.se/en/winter-conference-in-statistics-2019/>

Welcome to join us at an inspiring Conference!